JOHNEY I HARDLY KNEW YE

While going the road to sweet Athy Hurroo! Hurroo!
While going the road to sweet Athy Hurroo!
While going the road to sweet Athy with a stick in my hand & a drop in my eye,
A doletul damsel I heard cry Jonney I hardly knew ye!

CHORUS—

With your drums & guns & guns & drums the enemy nearly slew ye, O darling dear you look so queer faith Jonny I hardly knew ye,

Where are your eyes that looked so mild hurroo!
Where are your eyes that looked so mild hurroo!
Where are your eyes that looked so mild when my heart you did begile, Why did you skedaddle from me & the child—the [illegible]

you did begile,
Why did you skedaddle from me & the child why Jonny
I hardly knew ye

O where's your arms too slack hurroo
O where's your arms too slack hurroo
O where's your arms too slack I often felt them on my back From pain I roard at every crack O Jonney its then I knew ye
Where are the legs with which you run hurroo!
Where are the legs with which you run hurroo
Where are the legs with which you run when you went to carry a gun, Indeed your dancing days are done faith Johney I hard ly knew ye,
It grieved my heart to see you sail hurroo!
It grieve my heart to see you sail hurroo!
It grieved my heart to see you sail if my heart you felt you would bew ail,
I shook my head like the tail of a whale Jonny I hardly
knew ye,
I'll tell you the truth without controul hurroo!
I'll tell you the truth without controul hurroo,
I'll tell you the truth without controul your atitude lookt very drole,
Your as long & thin as a tellag apapole O Jonney I hard ly knew ye
O where's the whisker you ought to have there hurroo
O where's the whisker you aught to have there hurroo O where's the whisker you aught to have there I'm sure your jaws look very bare, You only were fit to throw in the rere O Jonny I hardly knew ye,
But still I'm glad to see you home hurroo,
But still I'm glad to see you home hurroo,
But still I'm glad to see you home from the Iland of Sa-loam
Your as low in flesh & high in bone faith Jonney I hardly knew ye, 681
